

ADVOCATES
FOR HIGHWAY
& AUTO SAFETY

CATHERINE CHASE

Catherine Chase is President of Advocates for Highway and Auto Safety (Advocates), a coalition of national consumer, health, law enforcement and safety organizations and the major property-casualty insurance companies and trade associations. Advocates works to adopt federal and state laws, policies and programs that prevent motor vehicle crashes, save lives, reduce injuries and contain costs.

Since first joining Advocates in 1996, Ms. Chase has played a critical role in advancing highway and auto safety in state legislatures throughout the country and in Congress including occupant protection, impaired driving, teen driving, distracted driving, consumer protections, motor vehicle and commercial motor vehicle safety. Ms. Chase also advocates for regulations to ensure the safe development and deployment of autonomous vehicles.

Because of her respected political and lobbying skills, Ms. Chase is frequently invited to speak before Congress, state legislatures and national conferences including The Atlantic Festival, SAE Government/Industry Meeting, and SXSW. She has appeared on ABC, CBS, NBC, NPR, C-SPAN, and SiriusXM. Additionally, she has been quoted in The New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, The Washington Post, Associated Press, Bloomberg, CNN Business, The Hill, and Politico, among others, and was published in the Annals of Advances in Automotive Medicine (AAAM) Journal, “U.S. State and Federal Laws Targeting Distracted Driving.” Ms. Chase was chosen to be a member of the 2016 class of the Women’s Executive Leadership Program of the Impact Center and was selected by CQ Roll Call as one of seventeen “People to Watch in 2019.”

She is a graduate of Rutgers College and received her juris doctor from the George Washington University Law School.
